

Speaker: Assemblages or found art is one of my favorite styles of art. These works are the three dimensional equivalent of collage. They are created from different objects that would have a normal use, outside of their artistic life, and frequently artists of assemblages have found art sculptures, required that the material they work with, it's been a discard that it's been thrown away. You'll literally find these people, I know in Fairbanks, you find them out dumpster diving, looking for art supplies.

[00:00:31] [END OF AUDIO]