

Lisa Kljaich: Claes Oldenburg is a pop art sculptor who creates works of everyday items but in unusual forms like a huge cheeseburger made of hard plaster, a giant typewriter that's soft and made of foam. Later on he began collaborating with his future spouse Van Bruggen to create monumental sculptures that imitate mundane objects like a spoon, bowling pins, lipstick and close pins.

[00:00:33] [END OF AUDIO]